It would be nice if all of the data which sociologists require could be enumerated because then we could run them through IBM machines and draw charts as the economists do; however, not everything that can be counted counts, and not everything that counts can be counted.

CoARA-ERIP

An overview

CoARA-ERIP Mission & Vision

Mission

The CoARA-ERIP's mission to develop policy, guidance, and tools for advancing research assessment that promote the role of, and define the ethical and integrity characteristics of, a responsible culture for the assessment of data and AI in research, fostering reliability, transparency, and societal benefit.

Vision

The CoARA-ERIP vision is of a global research ecosystem where a responsible and equitable framework for research assessment ensures that data and artificial intelligence research outputs are developed, assessed, and applied with foundational ethics and integrity. By integrating ethical reflection, open science principles, and digital innovation, we aim to transform research evaluation into a human-centred, evidence-based, and forward-looking practice that empowers researchers, institutions, and societies to harness data and AI responsibly for the collective advancement of knowledge and well-being.

Objectives

1. To develop ethics and research integrity guidance for research assessment involving data and AI;
2. To promote the adoption of responsible assessment practices that prioritize integrity, responsibility, and societal benefit, while advancing the benefits and mitigating the potential risks and harms associated with data and AI-driven research;
3. To foster stakeholder engagement through facilitated dialogue and collaboration among researchers, policymakers, funding agencies, and other stakeholders to ensure diverse perspectives are considered in the development and implementation of ethical research assessment policies;
4. To provide a toolkit of educational resources to raise awareness help implement best practices in research assessment for data and AI; and
5. To engage in outreach that shapes policy and institutional change, promoting a culture of responsible data and AI research conduct.

CoARA-ERIP Co-Chairs

Co-Chairs

- Francis P. Crawley
Good Clinical Practice Alliance – Europe (GCPA)
(Senior researcher, Belgium)
- Mara de Sousa Freitas
Catholic University of Portugal (Senior researcher, Portugal)
- Kris Dierickx
KU Leuven (Senior researcher, Belgium)
- Perihan Elif Ekmekçi
TOBB University of Economics and Technology
(Senior researcher, Turkey)

Co-Chairs

- Chiedozie Ike
Ambrose Alli University (Early career researcher, Nigeria)
- Pil Maria Saugmann
The European Council for Doctoral Candidates and Junior Researchers (EuroDoc) (Early career researcher, Belgium)
- Cyrus Walther
International Union of Pure and Applied Physics,
Dortmund, North Rhine-Westphalia (PhD student, Germany)
- Gitanjali Yadav
National Institute of Plant Genome Research
(NIPGR), (Senior researcher, India)

CoARA-ERIP Membership

168 Global Membership

- Participation for all continents
 - Europe
Strong representation from EU and non-EU countries (e.g., Germany, UK, Italy, Netherlands, Finland, Belgium).
 - Africa
Highly represented, with strong participation from Nigeria, Kenya, South Africa, Ghana, Uganda, and others.
 - Asia
Solid participation from India, China, Malaysia, Saudi Arabia, and others
 - North America: Good representation from the USA and Canada
 - South America: Participants from Argentina, Brazil, and Chile
- Significance: This global diversity is crucial for developing science, academic, and ethics frameworks that are not solely Western-centric and are applicable across different cultural, legal, and research contexts.
- Gender
 - Male: ~52%
 - Female: ~47%
 - Prefer not to say: ~1%
- Workstreams
 - Workstream 1 (Outreach & Awareness)
~65% of participants expressed interest.
 - Workstream 2 (Policy, Methods & Tools)
~80% of participants expressed interest.
 - Workstream 3 (Implementation Toolkit)
~65% of participants expressed interest.

Representativeness

- Institutional Affiliation:
 - Universities and Research Institutes
(e.g., University of Oslo, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, University of Ibadan, University of Hamburg)
 - Research Funding Bodies
(e.g., Research Council of Finland, National Institutes of Health – NIH)
 - International Organizations & Infrastructures
(e.g., European Commission, ELIXIR, DARIAH-EU, CODATA)
 - Healthcare Institutions
(e.g., Medical Research Council of Zimbabwe, Aga Khan University)
 - NGOs
(e.g., NetMission.Asia, The Ethical Data Initiative)
- Expertise and Roles
 - Data and AI Science: Data Science, Artificial Intelligence, Machine Learning, Data Management (FAIR, RDM), Bioinformatics, Data Governance, Cybersecurity.
 - Open Science and Scholarly Communication: Open Science, Open Access, Preprints, Responsible Research Assessment (RRA), Bibliometrics, Scientometrics.
 - Ethics and Integrity: Research Ethics, Bioethics, AI Ethics, Neuroethics, Research Integrity, Publication Ethics.
 - Policy and Governance: Science Policy, Research Policy, Data Policy, AI Regulation (e.g., EU AI Act), Research Management, Project Management.
 - Domain-specific Research: Clinical Research, Global Health, Public Health, Digital Humanities, Environmental Science, Linguistics, Robotics.

Workstream 1

Outreach & Awareness

1. Responsible AI in Research Assessment: A Landscape Analysis
A Report By The CoARA Working Group On Ethics and Research Integrity Policy in Responsible Research Assessment for Data and Artificial Intelligence (CoARA-ERIP)
Susanne Van Den Hooff, Matt Coler, Francis P. Crawley, Millicent Mboya, Emile R. Chimusa
2. Ethical Implications of AI Integration in Research Assessment
Susanne van den Hooff, Department of Care Ethics, University of Humanistic Studies, Utrecht, NL
Matt Coler, Technology, Governance & Innovation Department, Faculty Campus Fryslân, University of Groningen, NL
CoARA-ERIP
3. Meetings and webinars (see Events at the end of this presentation)

Workstream 2 (&3)

Policy, Methods, & Tools

1. CoARA-ERIP Checklist for self-evaluation in research assessment: designed for individual researchers and institutions
2. Advancing the ethical arc: integrating research assessment into the university curriculum – A position paper
3. Kirbas, Z. S., Arpaci, S., Ekmekci, P. E., Crawley, F. P., Karaman, B. B., De Sousa Freitas, M. C., Stoka, V., Walther, C., & Tzouganatou, A. (2025). A whitepaper on reforming research assessment for a digital and AI-driven science future (Final 1.0). Zenodo.

Workstream 2 (&3)

Policy, Methods & Tools

1. CoARA-ERIP Checklist for self-evaluation in research assessment: designed for individual researchers and institutions
2. Advancing the ethical arc: integrating research assessment into the university curriculum – A position paper
3. Whitepaper on 'From peoples to platforms: reclaiming sovereignty in data and AI governance through revisiting the UN Charter and human rights law'
4. Framing paper: 'The ENVISAGE Principles & PILOT Principles: A Layered Framework for Ethical and Operational AI' subtitle: 'AI Governance: Grounding AI governance in shared human values and implementing them through robust policy and engineering'
5. Developing policies to advance ethics and human rights in general-purpose AI models (GPAIMs)

Implementation Toolkit

The Modular Assessment Configurator (MAC)

A digital tool that enables institutions (RPOs) and funders (RFOs) to (co-)create configurable, explicable, and value-aligned assessment workflows

Workflow 3

Implementation Toolkit

The Modular Assessment Configurator (MAC)

The screenshot displays the 'Research Evaluator' web application. At the top, there are navigation links for 'Projects' and 'Function Builder', and a 'Logout' button. The main heading is 'Select a Research Project to Evaluate', with a subtext 'Choose from our example research projects to explore the evaluation system'. A '+ Add New Project' button is located in the top right. Five project cards are shown, each with a title, description, tags, icons, and an overall score out of 100.

| Project Name | Description | Tags | Icons | Overall Score |
|---------------------------------------|---|------------------------------------|------------------------|---------------|
| Open Science Climate Model | Comprehensive climate modeling study with full transparency and reproducibility | Earth Sciences, Climate Science | Code, List, People (5) | 86.4/100 |
| Traditional Pharmaceutical Research | Closed-source drug discovery research with limited data sharing | Pharmacology, Drug Discovery | Code, People (3) | 35.5/100 |
| Industry-Academia AI Collaboration | Machine learning research with open code but restricted data access | Computer Science, Machine Learning | Code, People (4) | 80.5/100 |
| International Biodiversity Consortium | Large-scale collaborative research on tropical ecosystem biodiversity | Biology, Ecology | Code, List, People (8) | 83.2/100 |
| Early Career Quantum Research | Emerging research in quantum computing by early-career researcher | Physics, Quantum Computing | Code, People (2) | 51.8/100 |

The Impact of the MAC

1. Adoptable and adaptable: EU-wide and globally relevant
2. Allows for the inclusion of all scientific and academic research outputs/objects and contributions – CCOs and LLDOs
3. Allows for the custom selection and weighing of Assessment Relevant Contributions (ARCs)
4. Integrates a system for alignment with research ethics and research integrity
5. Creates transparency for assessors, those assessed, and those viewing the results of the assessment – a fair, equitable, and transparent 'credit' system
6. Allows for the sharing of assessment standards within institutions, across institutions or domains – locally, nationally, regionally
7. Creates a sound mechanism for promoting/driving open science
8. Fosters scholarly communication and sharing

CoARA-ERIP
Serving the Community

Impact & Legacy

- Completion of ongoing work across the three workstreams
- Publication of WS1 and WS2 outputs
- Further develop of
- The CoARA-ERIP The Ethics Assessment Alignment Matrix (EAAM)
- Networking outputs across CoARA Working Groups and National Committees
- Endorsement of CoARA-ERIP's outputs
- Adoption of CoARA-ERIP's outputs into the CoARA Toolkit
- Communication and dissemination of the CoARA-ERIP outputs
- Transitioning into a sustainable community of practice

Comprehensive Excellence & Implementation

1. WS-1: Expansion of the landscaping
Further meetings and webinars
2. WS-2: Further development of policy and methodologies
3. WS-3: Integrating further the EAAM and the MAC
Building the backend and refining the frontend of the MAC
Hackathons

Conclusion

Looking Forward

CoARA ERIP is now poised for the following

- To further refine and expand the work of WS-1, WS-2, and WS-3
- To integrate its outcomes across the CoARA Working Groups and National Committees
- To seek CoARA Endorsement for its outputs
- To collaborate with the following organizations for the implementation of its outputs
